Because coming home is the greatest indulgence

The moment you step into a Windflower property, a warm, gentle glow overcomes you, the feeling of coming home.

It could be the vast, uncluttered surroundings: Or the simple, soothing contours that seem to grow out of the surroundings: Or the design aesthetic that blends seamlessly with the local landscape and tradition.

It could be the way we greet you: not like a guest, but as a member of our household: a cherished presence that enriches our every moment: Or how we do it all takes to make sure you'll remember your entire experience with a smile; Or even how the breakfast reminds you of your granny's cooking!

Where hospitality finds its true nature

At the soul of every Windflower property is simplicity, openness and grace: gentle hospitality that never overwhelms you. We are all about open spaces, large and airy rooms and a seamless blend with the local cuisine, culture and topography. We focus on helping you experience the essence of the location in every way possible: from the food to the trails, from cultural shows to heritage walks.

Home is also in the way nature flows gently into our properties. Along with the heady breeze and sumptuous sunlight, local idioms also stream in – as architecture, materials, craft and culture.
